Come to our February Meeting
on Tuesday, February 12
at 7:00 p.m.
at the Mansour Center

Happy Valentine's Day

Our February meeting should be of interest to all of us who are more and more concerned about our health. Our guest speaker will be Janis Kleinberger who will speak on Integrated Medicine. Janis is a friend of member Marty Hughes who had her speak to our Looking Ahead group. She was so interesting that we wanted a larger audience to hear her views and experience some of her methodologies. She also works in the Hospice field and does energy field, reflexology, and Reiki sessions, Reiki is a practice that strengthens and supports our natural ability to heal by encouraging the system towards balance physically, emotionally, spiritually and mentally. We are certain that you will find her helpful and interesting. She will be available as well to answer your questions.

(770) 612-3311

(corner of Cobb Parkway and Cumberland Boulevard, near the AMC theaters).

Karen "sez" that although they have lived within a quarter mile of the restaurant for five years they have never been there, but the menu looks great and reasonable, and it has some good reviews.

It has a casually festive atmosphere that combines New Orleans flavor and comfort with an upscale sensibility. From the Creole favorites that embody the heart and soul of Southern Louisiana, to their flavorful takes on seafood, pasta, salads, steaks and desserts, they offer something for everyone.

Circle the date:

FRIDAY, MARCH 1st, at 7:00 PM

Please RSVP to Karen Peters by Wednesday 27th of February at or 770-971-4087

We hope to have a good group – invite your friends to any of our Roving Gourmet gatherings.
They are always welcome.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Hello friends,
It's so hard to believe that a month has already been torn off our new calendars. When one is young, 10 for instance, a year is 10% of your life. At this point each year is a smaller and smaller percentage of one's life span, and time goes so much faster. I suppose that this goes without saying, but the speed really gets to me.

This getting older is surprising in many ways, and so much more attention is being given to health issues, so this month's program should prove to be a most interesting one. We met Janis at our Looking Ahead meeting where she explained many of the techniques to help us maintain and even improve our health. We felt that a larger number of people would benefit from her presentation, and I hope that you will be able to join with us.

It has been a delight to have Carol Stephens with us at the Isabel Wilkerson presentation at Southern Poly and at Roving Gourmet this past Friday. She sold her house [finally!] and will be moving to Richmond permanently on January 20.

We have received this information from her. (Moving sale is Sat. and Sun. Feb. 9 & 10th from 10:00 - 4:00. Anyone who can help during it just being in various rooms to keep an eye out would be appreciated.

Packing party is Tues. and Wed. Feb. 12 & 13th from 10:00 - 2:00. I will have lunch for all who come help.

Address is 1288 Rolling Oaks Dr. Kennesaw 30152. Thank you!

Give her a call at 678-206-4929 to let her know that you will be able to assist – not that we want to help her leave us.

Carol has been such an important and delightful addition to our organization from the time she was named our Woman of the Year, to her presidency of the organization and through all of her efforts in the public policy area that losing her is painful. We will treasure the next few days with you, Carol, and hope to keep in touch through emails and other ways. The Richmond AAUW is very lucky to have you.

Affectionately,

--Karen

WHO ARE THESE MEMBERS?

1. She danced on the table at her Senior Prom and starred in a musical at Dunwoody Stage Door Players.
2. She spent two hours in jail after being accused of assault. The policeman who drove her there was a rookie, and she had to give him directions to the jail.
3. She has had a 12-foot python draped around her neck.

Plan to Attend the National AAUW Convention in New Orleans this June

Have you made arrangements yet to attend the AAUW National Convention in New Orleans? The convention, which will be held June 9–12, will not only give you a chance to connect with others and our mission but also hone the skills we need to keep AAUW at the forefront of the women's empowerment community. And, the speakers — wow! From our very own Lilly Ledbetter to fellowship alumna and MSNBC host Melissa Harris-Perry, you'll be thrilled and inspired by their stories.

Plus, you won't want to miss the items on display from the AAUW archives. We'll even have an AAUW Antiques Roadshow, where you can bring your AAUW heirlooms to be examined by archivist Suzanne Gould. Who knows what treasures we'll find!

Speaking of treasures, make sure you enjoy all New Orleans has to offer by taking part in the pre- and post-convention tours. From ghost tours to Cajun cooking lessons, we've got it covered.

Go to AAUW.org for registration forms and more details.
