Our book this month:

The Mighty and the Almighty: Reflections on America, God, and World Affairs

By: Madeline Albright

Looking Ahead to September 16

Hello Lovely AAUW Book Friends:

As you know, the chosen book for September 16 is the fascinating "The Mighty and the Almighty: Reflections on America, God, and World Affairs," by former Secretary of State Madeline Albright. The book is full of engaging stories.

I look forward to hosting, facilitating and doing food, etc. on September 16th.

BUT, I would also love to add a fun component! Ms. Albright is also the author of the beautiful book, "Read My Pins." I loved it so much that I ordered my own copy—available also in the library. She tells stories of her beautiful pin collection and of wearing her pins to give "subliminal" messages at high-level international meetings.

So—on September 16, I invite you to go through your jewelry boxes and find a fun pin—or two to wear! If your pin has a story, great—but it's not necessary. We can share a few personal stories and admire the "jewels!"

My best, Barbara Hammond

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

This year we plan to focus on strengthening relationships within our group and concentrating on issues which are front and center in our parent organization.

Please join us on Wednesday, September 11th, at the Smith-Gilbert gardens in Kennesaw for a docent-led tour with a complimentary box lunch. There is ample free parking. The tour will commence at 10 - 11:30 a.m. with lunch following. There will be time after lunch to explore further on your own. No charge for AAUW members.

Please confirm attendance and choice of food (see pg. 5) by replying to me by September 3rd at 770-971-8227 or nance34@comcast.net. I will need this number to order the box lunches.

On October 8th administrators from Chattahoochee Technical College will discuss "the Role of Community Colleges in Women's Education." This is the subject of a very recent study by national AAUW researchers entitled "Women in Community Colleges: Access to Success." With escalating college costs a national worry, this will address ways women may obtain education in an affordable manner.

Debbie and I hope these and our other programs will stimulate your interest and prompt you to attend.

Nancy

LOOKING AHEAD

Hello All!

On Monday, August 26, at 2:00 pm, our group will host a speaker from "A Place for Mom, Inc." This is a nationwide information service about senior living options. They tailor their suggestions to an individual's stated preferences. We will meet at the East Cobb Government Center, on Lower Roswell Rd., in the large room at the back of the facility.

Our speakers will be Mignon Morgan and Annemarie Schwarzkopf (Community Relations Advisor). The topic is: "The Search for Senior Housing... Simplified!" This event will be open to all members of our Cobb County branch as well.

Please RSVP to Marty Hughes at marty-hughes@mindspring.com so we will know how to arrange the seating. This should be an interesting discussion; come with your questions and comments!

Looking forward to seeing you all!
