

Cobb Update

Volume 24, Issue 10

June 2008

AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, and research.

Where the Girls Are: The Facts About Gender Equity in Education

In May, AAUW released the most comprehensive analysis to date on trends in educational achievement by gender, race/ethnicity, and income. The report, Where the Girls Are: The Facts About Gender Equity in Education, presents a comprehensive look at girls' educational achievement during the past 35 years, paying special attention to the relationship between girls' and boys' progress.

This report shows that girls and boys from the fourth grade through the end of college are making steady educational gains. It is also the first report to analyze gender differences within economic and ethnic categories.

Many media outlets are already reporting this story. You can help spread the word about AAUW's new research by commenting on the stories and blogs, starting with those listed below.

As of 1 p.m. on Tuesday, May 20, the Washington Post story about AAUW's report was the second most emailed article on their website, and more than 70 readers had posted comments. Among other media outlets, we have already received coverage from

- The New York Times
- The Wall Street Journal
- The Denver Post
- The Hartford Courant

Blogs featuring the AAUW report so far include Education Week's Eduwonkette, the American Council on Education, and Best Education Today. We encourage you to visit these sites and comment about the research or join the conversation on the AAUW Dialog blog. Welcome to citizen journalism!

President's Corner

Carol Stephens 770-427-8403

It is hard for me to realize that we are winding up another year of AAUW! This has been a truly rewarding year for me. You have all been extremely cooperative and helpful in all of our endeavors. We have accomplished quite a bit and I cannot thank you enough!!

We have passed a detailed budget that allowed us to accomplish many outreach programs such as scholarships to Jekyll Island for Sedalia Park girls, purchase of 90 books for GRITS this summer at Girls Inc, Marietta, publication of a Cobb Brochure, and "seed money" for an ambitious forum for teenaged girls interested in math and science at Southern Poly this fall as well as our usual scholarships to deserving young women at KSU, Southern Poly, Chatahoochee Tech, and this year, North Metro Tech. Wow!!! A huge Thank You to our major contributors to the Book Fair!!

In addition to the above, we spent quality time exploring our visions for Cobb AAUW and came up with several good ideas, including our Cobb brochure and the survey conducted through Bea Piddock. We also were able to revise our Policies and Procedures and update our ByLaws to be in compliance with National changes.

This year we spent more time than usual in business meetings than Program presentations. Thank you for your patience! Thank you to Pam and Arden for great programs this year! We also cooperated with LWV and Junior League to host the Legislative Forum in January. Don't forget the major task this year of hosting the State AAUW Convention! We also were able to support both a morning and evening book group session several times this year.

We have had a very productive year and I thank you all for your contributions and expertise! Way to go Ladies!!

See you at the End of the Year Banquet at Scalini's on June 10th! Be sure to make your reservation with Pam and also don't forget to pay your dues of $71 no later than June 25 (the report is due to the association by July 1). You can bring your dues check to the banquet if you wish or mail to Shirley Mills at 4282 Presswyck Ct. Marietta, GA 30062. Ask a friend to join with you!!

In principle and in practice AAUW values and seeks a diverse membership. There shall be no barriers to full participation in this organization on the basis of gender, race, creed, age, sexual orientation, national origin, or disability. A college or university degree is a requirement for full membership.

2008 Women of Achievement

Emily Lembeck, Supt. of Marietta Public Schools

She is involved in the community as a supporter of Theater in the Square, The Atlanta Opera, and regularly attends student sporting events. She supports the Cobb Marietta Library Foundation and is the originator of the Marietta Reads for Adults which the Library has continued and is having an author speak here on March 29 for the 2008 fund raiser to be held at Walker School to support the Library Foundation. Last year Pat Conroy spoke. He was a great entertainer with his family tales about his dad who his siblings called Godzilla. His stories brought tears and laughter. She is the first woman elected supt. of the Marietta City School System in its over 113 year history. She has provided strong leadership. All schools in the system have principals who have had the Leadership Course.

Janet Street, retired as CEO of Girls, Inc of Greater Atlanta in Dec.

She served as leader for 28 years, starting with 300 girls in Cobb County in Marietta and growing to more than 4,000 girls in 13 counties. She worked as an aide at the club from her Freshman year in high school through college. She had been a member of the Teen Club there prior to working as an aide. She received her degree from Georgia State University in Non-profit Administration and then began as administrator at Girls Club, which became Girls Inc in the early 90's. "All girls are at risk. We have to start them early - to tell them what their rights are and how to be successful." (information from AJC Jan. 3, 2008

Rebecca Denlinger, Former Cobb County Fire Chief

She was appointed fire chief in Cobb County in April of 1997. She retired in 2007 and became fire commissioner of British Columbia in February 2008. A partial listing of her awards includes: Public Safety Employee of the Year in 2005; Cobb County Department Managers 1999 and 2004 Silver Eagle award for outstanding leadership and performance; the 2002 Cobb County Golden Goose Award for exemplifying teamwork and leadership in government; recognized by Georgia Commission on Women as an honoree at the Georgia Women in Public Safety conference in 2001; and the 2002 Georgia Fire Official of the Year by the Insurance and Safety Fire Commissioner for the State of Georgia.

The next issue of the Cobb Update will be for September. Judy Ribarsky is the editor for 2008-2009.
